

BOOK REVIEW

From Kindergarten to College: A Concise Guide to Homeschooling, Preparing for College, and Finding Scholarships Along the Way

by Deb Edson

Looking for encouragement to persevere while homeschooling? Need help motivating your kids? Consider purchasing a copy of From Kindergarten to College: A Concise Guide to Homeschooling, Preparing for College, and Finding Scholarships Along the Way by Deb Edson of Easley, South Carolina. From Kindergarten to College is an attractive 8½ by 11 spiral-bound, soft cover book with 130 pages of tips, aids, and personal stories about how Deb and her husband Gib homeschooled their 3 children for 18 years and were able to send them to college by the grace of God with over 30 scholarships.

Included in the book are 10 tips for homeschooling kids whether in elementary or high school, how to study for the SAT/ACT, questions to ask on the college visit, how to assemble the college portfolio, sports resume writing for recruits, how to teach the high school math and science courses, writing the guidance counselor letter, lots of information on specific college scholarships, plus much more.

Deb and Gib were founding members of Easley Home Educators and Christian Communicators of South Carolina, the state speech and debate league where she currently serves as President. Since 1990, Deb has shared her extensive research by giving numerous workshops on home education. If you would like a copy of Deb's book, mail a check payable to Deb Edson for $20 plus $4 shipping to: Deb Edson, 501 Asbury Circle, Easley, SC 29640. For further information, contact Deb at gilbertedson@bellsouth.net.